Outcomes

Support is tailored to meet the needs of each individual and will be adapted as they develop resilience, coping strategies, confidence and self-reliance.

Care and activities

Activities and support are tailored to meet the unique needs of each person living in Haywood House enabling them to build their resilience, coping strategies, confidence and self-reliance. We focus on maximising mental wellbeing to empower the people we support to progress to independent living or with minimal support in the community.

We take a person-centred and co-produced approach to assessment, planning, and admission. Each individual is actively involved in shaping their own journey—from how they want to transition into the service to identifying what matters most to them. We work together to co-produce goals and aspirations that reflect their personal values, preferences, and vision for the future.

Using the SMART framework (specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and timely), we set clear objectives and track meaningful progress. Individuals are supported to identify at least one goal in each of the seven key life areas: mental health, physical health and self-care, living skills, work and activities, identity and self-esteem, risk and behaviours, and relationships and social networks.

This collaborative, strength-based approach ensures each plan is tailored, empowering, and focused on outcomes that truly matter to the person.

Environment

Haywood House is located opposite the entrance to Burslem Park, a Grade II listed Victorian Park, restored in 2012 to its former glory. The park rises gracefully from lake to pavilion via a winding path and formal terrace garden and is close to the city centre of Stoke on Trent, a gateway to a wealth of educational, occupational and vocational opportunities. The city can be accessed by rail or road links via the M6.

Individual additional support can be provided up to 24 hours per day to support, empower and build skills for independent living. Coveberry Limited is part of CareTech Community Services, one of the largest health and social care providers in the UK, with over 550 services within its portfolio, including fostering, domiciliary care, complex home care, supported living, residential, specialist nursing homes and hospitals. CareTech is committed to providing the highest quality of care to children and adults with a range of diverse needs, including learning disabilities, autism, mental health disorders, acquired brain injuries, physical disabilities and/or behaviours that challenge.

The values and principles that guide us influence our culture and leadership, which promotes integrity, respect, accountability, compassion, determination and excellence. We strive to achieve positive, enduring, evidence-based outcomes, for every individual entrusted into our care.
